

2019 Course Descriptions

Treasures (Youth)

-Kenneth Martin, Harrisonburg, VA

We all have treasures. We stuff them in our pockets. We store them in treasure boxes. We hoard and protect them. As you develop as adults, one of the key questions is, "What is truly valuable?" How we answer that question is critical and has a huge effect on the rest of our life. This class will explore how we develop an understanding of things truly valuable by examining the life of David, a man with a heart after God’s heart.

Practical Points from the Patriarchs (Men)

-Ken Gehman, Mill Hall, PA

The book of Genesis is not just a compilation of stories for our entertainment. While living centuries before Christ, these individuals clearly illustrate principles taught in the N.T. Today, we still do well to learn from these men who were also less than perfect.

What is in Your House? -II Kings 4 (Ladies)

-Sue Gehman, Mill Hall, PA

Elisha asked the widow lady what she had of value in her house. We will explore what we have and how we can use our hearts, hands, and homes to glorify God. We will also take a look at investing in our children and grandchildren.

Anabaptism, The Bible, and Culture (Adults)

-Elijah Yoder, Harrisonville, PA

The youth of this generation have no fear of signing up for frontier missions in dangerous places. How can parents harness this enthusiasm and passion into the family and local church? We will look at our own culture and traditions in light of the Bible and then endeavor to understand and reach other cultures.

Crumbs from Under the Table (Youth and Adults)

-Ken Gehman, Mill Hall, PA

What an assortment of things are left under the table after mealtime when the family is young. The Gentile woman begged Jesus to have some scraps for her own. Throughout scripture there are little nuggets to be gathered, so this class will explore a few unrelated morsels of scripture for spiritual nourishment.

I John (Youth)

-Elijah Yoder, Harrisonville, PA

This class will endeavor to lead the student from assurance of salvation to a passionate pursuit of God’s kingdom. Subjects covered will include the forgiveness of sin, overcoming fear and doubt, and victorious Christian living.

Choir

-Kenneth Martin, Harrisonburg, VA
